

Top Insurance Lender Oak Street Funding Hires Attorney Alicia Mitchell Chandler as Chief Counsel

Greater breadth and complexity of business prompted move

INDIANAPOLIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Oak Street Funding (www.oakstreetfunding.com), the nation's top insurance lender, has hired attorney Alicia Mitchell Chandler as full-time chief counsel, a move that reflects the company's continued growth in its lending and servicing business. The announcement was made by CEO Rick Dennen.

"The increasing size and complexity of our business have created the need for a full-time counsel with Alicia Chandler's extensive qualifications," said Dennen. "Alicia will be a tremendous asset to Oak Street's management team and will help us improve the bottom line."

Chandler, recently named one of the rising stars in Indiana Super Lawyers magazine, brings a wealth of experience in commercial collections, federal and state court litigation, and real estate foreclosures. Before joining Oak Street, she was partner in the Indianapolis-based law firm, Krieg DeVault, where she focused on commercial collections, federal and state court litigation, and real estate foreclosures. Chandler has worked on the Oak Street account for several years and "knows it well," according to Dennen.

Her responsibilities at Oak Street include risk mitigation, corporate governance and bank financing, contract review, collections, litigation, and directing the work of outside law firms.

Chandler earned her B.S. in Criminal Justice from the University of Cincinnati and her J.D. from the University of Cincinnati College of Law. She is a member of the bar in Indiana, United States District Court for the Southern and Northern Districts of Indiana, and the United States Bankruptcy Courts for the Southern and Northern District of Indiana. Chandler is also the Junior-at-large member of the Indianapolis Bar Association, Commercial & Bankruptcy Law Section.
